Detail information of the programme/activity:

BBA(C.A.) Department has organized One-day Workshop on "Internet Awareness and Accessing Google Cloud Based Services" for the students of Arts Faculty dated on 24/08/2023 from 9.00 am to 11.00 am.

In this Workshop 17 Students were participated from different department. This program aims to educate participants about responsible and safe internet usage and empower individuals with the knowledge and skills necessary to navigate the online sphere safely.

Cloud computing operates on a principle as web-based email clients, allowing users to access all of the features and files of the system without having to keep the bulk of that system on their own computers. In fact, most people already use a variety of cloud computing services without even realizing it. Gmail, Google Drive even Facebook and Instagram are all cloud-based applications.

For all of these services, users are sending their personal data to a cloud-hosted server that stores the information for later access. And as useful as these applications are for personal use, they're even more valuable for businesses that need to be able to access large amounts of data over a secure, online network connection.
