Detail information of the programme:

The Department of Media and Communication Studies recently hosted a two-day workshop titled "Video Editing Software" on the 8th and 9th of January 2024. The workshop, led by Mr. Akshay Chandrakant Sonawane, an esteemed alumnus of the department and a video editor working with corporate content creation agencies in Mumbai and Pune, aimed to provide valuable insights into video editing.

The workshop, coordinated by Assistant Professor Gayathri Nandhakumar A, with the guidance of head of the department, targeted students enrolled in the S.Y B.Voc Journalism and Mass Communication program. Given that video editing is a fundamental component of the Introduction to Video Production course curriculum, the workshop sought to enhance students' understanding of this aspect. Commencing at 12:30 PM and concluding at 5 PM, the event featured practical sessions and hands-on training.

To facilitate a comprehensive learning experience, participating students were organized into three groups. They were tasked with capturing 5 to 10 shots of their own creative work, subsequently delving into the intricacies of editing under the guidance of Mr. Sonawane. The focus of the workshop centered on Adobe Premiere Pro, covering its interface, tools, and various cutting techniques. Through hands-on training, students gained proficiency in utilizing Adobe Premiere Pro for effective video editing.
