TERRACE GARDENING WORKSHOP

Botany Department 16/03/2022

Increasing urbanization, industrialization has resulted in less green areas and more pollution. Terrace gardening or roof gardening is one of the cost efficient options to reduce the urban island heat effect and to improve air quality. It also helps to shelter the local wildlife and promote biodiversity. To create awareness among the students on the multiple benefits of terrace gardening, department of Botany, in association with RUSA organized a one-day workshop on "Terrace Gardening" on 16th March, 2022. The resource person, Dr. Pramila Battase, Co-ordinator, Gardens Club Kolhapur, guided the students on structure and requirements to set up a terrace Garden. She also explained benefits of terrace gardening to mitigate the effects of climate change. Principal Dr. C.V.Murumkar presided over the inaugural function. Dr. Madhuri Patil coordinated the workshop. The workshop was streamed live on YouTube. Total 144 students attended the workshop.
